

WISCONSIN CITIES ARE DOOMED BY BURSTING OF DAM AND AN OVERFLOW

Thousands Fleeing to the Hills for Safety Was Another Big Dam is Threat- ened With Destruction

PROPERTY LOSS WILL REACH MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

Black River Falls is Doomed and Town of 2,000 May Be Destroyed---Feared There Has Been Much Loss of Life---Business Blocks and Residences Are Swept Away.

LaCrosse, Oct. 7.—(2 p. m.)—A courier who has just reached here reports that North Bend, Wis., has been completely destroyed by the flood. No details have been received and wire communication has been cut off.

LaCrosse, Wis., Oct. 7.—From the top of a telephone pole the mayor of Black River Falls today telephoned Mayor Dengler of this city, "We want food; we want clothing; we need money; people are starving."

Black River Falls, Wis., Oct. 7.—Several persons reported dead, and hundreds homeless and property damage in five Wisconsin Counties estimated at from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 is the toll today of the great over-flow of water from the upper Black River, which burst the Dells dam and is still threatening the monster Hatfield dam of the LaCrosse Water Power Company. The river all the way down to LaCrosse is today filled with wreckage.

Communication with the farming district of the flood territory has not been resumed, but it is feared there has been some loss of life among those who refused to take the early warnings and flee to the hills. Hatfield, just a few miles above here said to be completely submerged to day. Residents of the towns of Roaring Creek, Irving, North Bend, Midway and other villages are today moving their goods to the hills as rapidly as possible to escape the rapidly rising water. Black River Falls seems doomed. It is believed that the town of 2,000 will be completely destroyed.

Mayor McGill today sent broadcast an appeal for assistance for the 2000 victims who are without food or shelter. The people camped about great fires on the hills during the night, exposed to a drenching rain. It will be several days before they can re-enter the town.

La Crosse, Wis., October 7.—Thousands of inhabitants of Black River Valley were in a mad scramble for safety last night, fearing that the big $2,000,000 dam of the LaCrosse Power Company at Hatfield, Wis., would be unable to withstand the strain of the billions of gallons of water pressing against the concrete structure.

Heavy rains for the past week have swollen all river and streams through the entire state. Dams at Chippewa Falls and Bloomer gave way yesterday afternoon.

A secondary dam of the La Crosse Power Company, the Dells dam, situated some distance above the main dam at Hatfield, also went out yesterday afternoon, thus increasing the strain on the latter structure.

Reports of heavy loss of life are current here but no confirmation of the fact can be obtained because of the fact that all telegraph and telephone poles have been washed away and communication with the flooded districts is entirely cut off.

Ten houses were swept against and tore out a span of the wagon bridge at Black River Falls late yesterday and it is feared 40 occupants of the houses may have lost their lives.

Last night farmhouses and buildings from the valley between Hatfield and Black River Falls continue to come down with the torrent, indicating widespread disaster and possible loss of life in the country districts.

Thirty of the principal buildings at Black River Falls were undermined and toppled over and about the same number of residences were carried away in the flood. The only reason there was not serious loss of life, was because timely warnings were received.

Just as in the great Austin flood, a telephone operator played the hero part in this great Wisconsin flood. With almost every resident in Black River Falls fleeing out of the town, the girl operator stuck to her post and sent warning in every direction. She left only when the water started to flood the floor where she was working.

Some of the business blocks wrecked were Jones Lumber and Mercantile Company, Freeman House, Johnson Clothing Store, Black River Falls Lumber and Mercantile Company, of water poured over the dam all day and Hatfield was deluged.

Farmers had been warned to expect the break at any moment, and many of them fled with their families. However when the break appeared inevitable the telephone wires were down and the company was unable to warn many remaining farmers and these may have suffered.

During the night, when the real danger was apparent, a general alarm was sent out. In an effort to save those who could not be reached by telephone, caretaker True, of the Dells dam, mounted a horse and rode all night warning farmers to escape. Wagons were loaded with household goods and started for high ground, but as the country is flat for many miles, it is not known whether all escaped.

The flood traveled from Hatfield to Black River Falls in one hour. Farm houses, fences, barns and other debris was carried along and the strain of this debris pressed against the wagon bridge at the latter city, tearing out one span of the structure. The flood district contains miles of cranberry marshes full of camps of Indians engaged in harvesting the berries. There is fear that many Indians have perished.

The Hatfield water power consists of two great lakes or reservoirs, each covering several miles. The upper reservoir has been retained by the Dells dam which gave way, emptying the great lake into the lower reservoir. The lower dam at Hatfield, is built the same way, and the water rising swiftly, washed out several feet of earth covering the west wall here and tore down the canal and covered the surrounding country.

The two dams are owned by the LaCrosse Light and Power Company and the Hatfield dam was one of the largest in this section of the country. It is valued at $2,000,000 being made of reinforced concrete. It backs up water, forming a five mile lake—Lake Arbuthus. Above this is the Dells dam.

CONSTITUTIONAL CANDIDATES FILE PETITIONS TODAY

Saturday was the last day in which candidates for the constitutional convention could file their petitions. Up to Saturday four candidates had filed their petitions: Henry C. Keller, Democrat, of Eden township; Prof. W. H. Johnson, Democrat, of Granville; A. A. Stager, Republican of this city; and Sidney Smith, Socialist. All candidates were required to have over three hundred names on their petitions and each petition must be sworn separately to by five signers of each paper circulated.

ROYALISTS MAY BOMBARD COAST CITY

Vigo, Spain, Oct. 7.—Severe fighting between Portuguese Royalists and Republicans is reported from the frontier today. The most sensational news comes from Oporto where it is believed that the most decisive battle of the uprising will be fought. It is asserted that two modern battle-ships purchased in some mysterious manner by the Royalists are now off the port ready to bombard the town as soon as the battle begins. The government has rushed reinforcements to the garrison but there are many rumors that the city's inhabitants and soldiers are deserting by hundreds. The reports that ex-King Manuel has left England to head the uprising in person are absolutely groundless. Manuel is still at Richmond and asserted today that he has no intention of returning to his country.

BANK ROBBERS WERE ROUTED

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Chicago police are searching for four men believed to be hiding here after attempting to rob a bank at Bensenville, Ill., early today. The would be robbers blew open the door of the vault but before they could gain entrance they were routed in a pistol battle with citizens who were awakened by the noise of the explosion. The men fled in a buggy to Midway Park, five miles from here, chased by a posse headed by the village police. They are believed to have boarded an interurban car for Chicago.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK.

Freeport, Penn., Oct. 7.—John P. McCall, aged 45, manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Tarentum, was killed and three men were injured when their auto struck a pile of stones on a road near here and was wrecked.

DR. GARFIELD MAY BECOME PRESIDENT OF PRINCETON

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 7.—The officials of Princeton university are, it is said, seriously considering electing Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, to succeed Woodrow Wilson, who resigned to become candidate for governor of New Jersey. Garfield is the oldest son of the late president of the United States, James A. Garfield.

Taft's FAILURE TO FOOL THE WESTERN PEOPLE

(By C. H. Tavenner)
Washington, Oct. 7.—The President has been in the West. The people have listened to his defense. And they still believe he did wrong in vetoing the honest efforts of both branches of Congress to reduce the awful cost of living in the United States.

Such is the tenor of the news that has come over the wires from the special correspondents who either accompanied or trailed Mr. Taft on his 13,000 mile swing.

Arthur Henning, Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, interviewed hundreds of westerners and found that the people generally liked Mr. Taft personally but absolutely disapproved his record as President.

Angus McSwen, the celebrated Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American, (also Republican,) wired from Topeka, Kans., as follows:

"President Taft did not make a dent in the surface of strong progressive sentiment in the state of Kansas during his visit here."

It developed, too, that a great many men, in all walks of life, candidly admitted that next year they proposed to vote for a Democrat for President, notwithstanding they always before had voted for a Republican. A great many of these referred to the magnificent record the Democrats made in Congress last session, and frankly admitted that since the Democrats had shown real ability to govern, and govern well, it was no more than their due than they should be given greater responsibility.

PRES. TAFT IN COAST TOWNS

Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 7.—With half the distance of his "swing around the circle" behind him President Taft left today prepared to invade Pacific Coast territory. He has already visited 15 states and traveled 6,456 miles. The president today expressed himself as greatly pleased over his reception in the west.

HARVESTER FIRE LOSS IS $350,000

Richmond, Va., Oct. 7.—Fire today gutted the four story plant of the International Harvester Company here, doing damage estimated at $350,000. The fire was caused by spontaneous combustion.

PAY DIRT STRUCK BY PROBERS

Atty. Gen. Hogan May Turn Pen Evidence Over to Prosecutor

GROSS IRREGULARITIES

Found in Many Instances and a Thorough Examination Will be Result.

Columbus, Ohio, October 7.—The first day's investigation of affairs at the Ohio penitentiary turned up enough evidence of gross irregularities that Attorney-General Hogan decided to consult with Prosecutor E. C. Turner of Franklin county, about turning over some of the evidence to the grand jury, which is now in session. The result will be indictments it is said.

The investigation was not expected to disclose any irregularities, but Attorney-General Hogan says they just cropped out seemingly without being sought.

The irregularities in connection with the fish supply at the pen were inquired into slightly, but the greater part of the time was used in taking testimony from prison officers, employees and others to learn just what customs have prevailed in the past.

Reviewing the past year Warden Jones and others told that Superintendent of Subsistence Thomas J. Finn has been purchasing and paying for 1,250 pounds of fish each week at 8 1-2 cents a pound. The testimony shows the seller Becker & Co., of Columbus, never furnished any invoice with the weekly shipment.

A dayman called at the station for fish. It never went to Becker's store which does not handle fish, but when it arrived at the pen Finn would make a slip showing he had received 1,250 pounds of fish. From these slips, without any invoice from the Becker people, the voucher was made each month in payment.

When the new board took hold, August 15, Finn cut the weekly order from 1,250 pounds to 1,150 and when his successor took the place there was no change in the order for a few days and upon weighing one week's shipment he found 850 pounds. From that time he ordered between 750 and 850 pounds a week and has found it amply sufficient.

Monday, when the probe is continued, the Booth Fish Company, the dayman who hauled the fish each week and the freight house employees will be called to tell whether there is any difference in the shipping and apparent weight of 850 as is now received, and 1,250 pounds as it came for more than a year.

These facts were freely admitted by Warden Jones and the other witnesses examined. Warden Jones said he had repeatedly warned Finn that neglect of his duty and failure to weigh and check supplies as they came in would result in his dismissal but he says Finn promised him to do better.

The probe will go into the matter of past purchases, special counsel having already been assigned to the task of looking up the meat contracts, vouchers, invoices and checks for the last five years.

Attorney-General Hogan does not hesitate to express the belief that before the investigation is concluded enough evidence will be adduced to convict a number of persons of crime which will make them inmates instead of beneficiaries of the penitentiary.

FURTHER BLOODSHED IS EXPECTED DURING STRIKE

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Reports from the south and west today indicate that the end of the first week of the strike of the system federation on the Harriman lines and the Illinois Central finds the strikers' rank practically intact. The riots which occurred earlier in the week, have ceased but so tense is the feeling along the Illinois Central line that further bloodshed is expected.

Atlanta, Oct. 7.—The strike of the Georgia and Florida railroad was settled today through a compromise both the men and the railroad gained certain points.

New Orleans, Oct. 7.—The huge Southern and Pacific shops at Algiers are practically deserted today and there is but little activity among the strikers in this locality. Little hurry, and he says also that some of these will be outsiders rather than state officers.

The investigation will not be confined to the purchase of supplies under former Steward C. B. Randall and former Superintendent of Subsistence Thomas J. Finn, as originally planned, but will go searching into every phase of the management of the State Prison.

"No one will be shielded in this investigation, and every man or woman who knows anything about the affairs of the penitentiary will be given an opportunity to present their testimony, no matter who it hits," said the Attorney-General.

JACKSONTOWN CUTUPS WERE HAVING FUN

City attractions were too much for nine young men from Jacksontown and vicinity and they were loath to leave Newark after spending the day at the fair. They evidently decided to make a night of it for they were corralled by the city police at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. They told the officers that they were looking for a place to stay. In police court this morning, they were fined $1 and costs each and ordered committed until the amounts were paid. Patrolmen are picking up all strangers found on the street after midnight who cannot give a good account of themselves. This is made necessary on account of the numerous mysterious burglaries which are annoying the police.

TWO BALLOONS ARE MISSING

Kansas City, Oct. 7.—Two balloons in the Gordon Bennett Cup race are still unreported, the Berlin II of Germany and the Condor, the French entry. Hundreds of telegrams to points in Southern Canada, and points in Wisconsin have been sent out by the Aero club here in an attempt to locate them.

Kansas City, Oct. 7.—The Condor, it is reported, has landed at Mingo, Ia., 20 miles from Des Moines. The Condor had an eventful voyage and at one time was as far north as Lake Michigan.

RODGER'S FAILURE IS ADMITTED

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7.—It was practically admitted here today that C. P. Rodgers, the aviator entered in the contest for flight across the continent for a $50,000 prize has given up hope of finishing within the time limit. It is announced, however, that he will continue across the country in the interest of a Chicago packing house. Rodgers is now stalled at Hammond, Ind.

MANY BRIDGES WASHED AWAY

Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—Many bridges were washed away and car traffic in a number of directions paralyzed early today by a heavy rain storm in this locality. Many houses in the valleys were flooded and thousands of dollars worth of live stock lost.

WALL PAPER MEN PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Cleveland, Oct. 7.—The eight wall paper men indicted here Thursday on a charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law, were arraigned and entered pleas of not guilty before Federal Judge Day. All furnished bond in the sum of $5,000. The trial will probably be held in December.

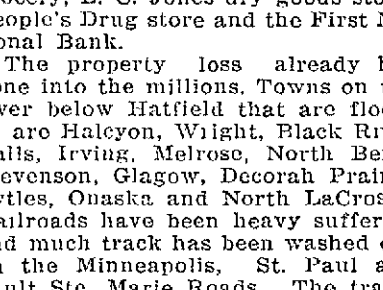

RIGS COLLIDE; WOMEN INJURED

A report was in circulation over the city Saturday that two women had been killed near Chatham Friday evening. It probably had its origin in the fact that two men in one rig and two women in another were racing after having attended the Licking county fair. When near Dry Creek the rigs collided and the two women were thrown into the road but were not badly injured. Then names could not be learned.

MURPHY A COMER

Gary, Ind., Oct. 7.—Fight fans who saw Eddie Murphy, the Boston "home crusher" defeat George Meneau so handsly here last night declare Murphy is in line for the lightweight championship. Murphy had the best of it during every round.

WHAT IS IT?

What kind of vehicle?

Answer to Friday's puzzle—Quarter-back.

AMUSEMENTS

SEAT SALE OPENS AND BOOKS NUMBER OUTSIDE ORDERS

The seat sale opened Saturday morning at Auditorium for Montgomery and Stone in "The Old Town," and in addition to a fair local sale, theatre goers from Coshocton, Zanesville, Mt. Vernon and Ulica sent orders. Four orders were also booked from Mansfield and ten from Columbus.

Montgomery and Stone will only play two one night stands this season, Lima and Newark. This city is fortunate in securing this attraction and the comedians with their country-wide reputation should pack the house until every seat is sold out in the entire building.

It should not be a case of waiting until the next day and then complaining on account of not being lucky for Monday, October 9th. The story, the characters, scenes and situations of the bucolic drama are so familiar now as to need no further description.

"Thy Neighbor's Wife."

Two husbands and two wives are the principal personages concerned in the plot of "Thy Neighbor's Wife," with Arthur Byron, which Daniel Frohman will make known at the Auditorium, Wednesday, Oct. 11. Of the members of the company who play these four roles, it is said that Alice John is a most delightful little home body, so far sentimental where her husband is concerned, although disposed to find fault as wives will do at his inability to take her point of view. As different as possible from here is Pamela Gaythorne, who makes the other wife a natural type of care-free woman, thinking only of a good time and appearance to be kept up in public, while letting things drift at home.

Albert Hyde, Rowland and Clifford have given "Rock of Ages" an excellent mounting.

The Orpheum.

One of the novelties of the season will be seen at the Arcade Theatre the first half of next week in Irma Orbasany's trained cockatoo actors. They have been a decided success in many of the larger cities and are sure to be a great hit here. Both old and young have enjoyed themselves greatly watching the birds executing their various feats. They have a shipwreck and drown without flinching. They have duels and die apparently just as dead as can be with feet stretched out and glassy eyes. Don't fail to see their pretty pantomimes.

The Imperial Comedy Trio have a treat for you, entitled "Breaking into Vaudeville." The act contains a jolly blackface and a witty German comedian and a duet. They have several new songs and a whole car load of good comedy.

Palmer and LaRue, musical artists, will entertain you with a classy musical turn which is said to please all lovers of music.

Frances Gerard, comedienne, quite a classy miss, will please you with her late novelty act.

The Orpheumscope will have a new film.

NEW SKIN ABSORBER IN GREAT DEMAND

(National Drug Review)
Since the discovery that merciolized wax possesses remarkable absorbent powers when applied to the skin, the demand for it as a complexion renewer has been tremendous. Druggists in every section report sales as far exceeding those of anything similar they have ever had on their shelves.

The merciolide in the wax, according to Prof. Hoffman, gently absorbs the dermalized cuticle, in minute particles, so that the user gradually loses her old, worn-out complexion, the more youthful under-skin taking its place. Cutaneous eruptions, blotches, moth patches, tan and freckles are of course removed at the same time. As merciolized wax is entirely harmless, and easy to use, women all over the country are purchasing and using it to quickly rejuvenate their complexions. The wax is applied to face, neck or hands the same as cold cream, allowed to remain over night, then washed off with warm water.

DOUBLE HEADER AT WEHRLE PARK

At Wehrle Park tomorrow afternoon a double header will be put on. The first game will be called at 1:30 between the Olympians and Knights of Columbus, and the second between the Athletics and Anchors.

UTICA

Orin D. Smythe went to Delaware Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Cordelia Condon Palmer.

Dwight Smythe, who has been very ill for about six weeks, is slightly better.

Cards have been received announcing the wedding at Plano, Ill., of Rev. Claud E. Boyer and Miss Belle Valentine Hemming.

Elmer Niebel, who has been in the hospital at Mt. Vernon several weeks suffering from an operation for appendicitis, has now returned home and is convalescing rapidly.

BRIGHTEN THE BATHROOM.

In planning bathrooms, architects unanimously specify white, the symbol of cleanliness and purity. The tile and tub will get dirty but the white effect can be restored and preserved by using Hewitt's pure white Easy Task Soap. It cuts the grease and loosens the dirt, but does not scratch. A cake only costs a nickel.

NEWARK ELKS AT MT VERNON SUN.

The big baseball game of the season will take place Sunday afternoon at Lake Hiawatha park, Mt. Vernon, when the Newark Elks will play. Mt. Vernon played Newark some weeks ago and the game resulted in a score of Newark, 6 and Mt. Vernon, 4.

Both teams have strong line ups. Laudenschlager will pitch for Newark and Lake will catch.

Horn will pitch for Mt. Vernon and Popham will be behind the bat. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and a fine contest is expected.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENT SAYS

"The Old Town."

Those peers of the musical comedy stage, Montgomery and Stone, will come for the first and last time to this city on their tour in the big musical comedy, "The Old Town" when they begin a limited engagement of one night at the Auditorium beginning Tuesday night, October 10th.

Few, if any, of Montgomery and Stone's former plays have survived three seasons, but the demand for "The Old Town" has been so insistent that Manager Charles Dillingham has been obliged to defer their new play until well along in the spring, when it will be produced at Mr. Dillingham's Globe Theatre, New York. The present season will take them to the Pacific Coast; their first since they became stars, and the expectancy of the forthcoming visit has the coast cities all agog with the most pleasurable anticipations.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," It will show like a sleeping beauty with an old friend to greet "Quincy Adams Sawyer." That clear, wholesome and thoroughly entertaining play, when it comes to the Auditorium.

PROMOTER HAD PLENTY OF COIN

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Detectives are expected from Indianapolis today with requisition papers for James A. Witz, land and mining stock promoter, who is alleged to have obtained $150,000 by fraud in various parts of the country. Witz was arrested here yesterday following his indictment at Indianapolis. He had $5,250 sewed in his vest pocket. The money was attached for a New York creditor. "The indictment is a subterfuge used by enemies," was all Witz would say. Perry T. Rice, a wealthy farmer of Tanden, Ind., caused the indictment to be returned.

WORKSHOP FOR THE BLIND WILL BE ESTABLISHED

Columbus, Oct. 7.—Charles F. F. Campbell, executive agent of the Ohio State Commission for the blind, is busy this week securing a place suitable for the headquarters of the commission and also for a workshop for blind men.

Of the work that lies before him, Mr. Campbell, who by the way is considered one of the world's experts on work for the blind, predicts that within a very short time Ohio will be in the front rank of the states which are now actively engaged in aiding the blind toward self-support. The preliminary work of Mr. Campbell will be to locate all the blind of the state who want employment, and as soon as possible provide them with work, something that will take their minds from their affliction, and give them a means of earning the whole or at least a part of their living.

Through the women's organizations and clubs of the state, an effort will be made to sell the household linens and knitted goods which the blind women can make in their homes. As there is always an interest in the handicapped, always plenty of philanthropic housekeepers who are willing to aid in such undertakings, they will be asked to purchase these articles which will be sold on their merit. The stock for these things will be purchased by the commission in large quantities, thereby securing the benefit of the lowest cash prices. The blind women will receive the difference between the actual cost of the raw material and the retail selling price of the finished articles.

"Too many of the blind girls of Ohio, as of other states," said Mr. Campbell, "have been compelled to sit in the corner, brooding over their enforced idleness. They are splendid workers if only given the opportunity, and one of the first duties of the commission for the blind will be to inform the general public of the useful and valuable things that can be accomplished by the blind workers of Ohio. The commission has a busy year before it, but with the wide and increasing interest that is being manifested by the people throughout the state in its efforts to help the blind to help themselves, success is assured.

"BEAT IT" BEFORE THE PATROL WAGON ARRIVED ON SCENE

A telephone message at the police station this morning about 9 o'clock informed the department that a man who was badly cut, was lying in a half-burned house near 115 Railroad street. Wagonman Robert Francis made a quick run with the patrol wagon, picking up Chief of Police Hinkel enroute. Before the wagon reached the number the man had vanished. Identical in that community state that the man made a quick getaway down the Shawnee tracks fearing that he would be detained by the police.

A NEW PLAY UPON THE CONTINENTAL CHAPEAU.

It seems as though the Continental shape in feminine hats can never fully go out of fashion. In the chapeaux recently brought forward by the most exclusive milliners, the eighteenth century army headgear has a rather stiff and square crown of satin-serve and a brim of flexible felt, that is draped against the crown in deep folds and held down beneath stiff wings. This rather severe treatment is offset by a boa of white marabout swathed loosely about the throat with the ends crossing on the left shoulder.

Sultana Roll. In a double boiler scald one pint of milk. Add one tablespoonful of flour rubbed to a smooth paste with a little cold milk, stir until slightly thickened, cover and cook for 30 minutes. Add two eggs beaten with one cupful of sugar and stir until like custard then strain and cool. Add one quart of good cream, one teaspoonful each of vanilla and almond extract and color with leaf green paste. Soak one-half of a cupful of Sultana raisins in enough brandy to cover for three hours. Whip one pint of heavy cream to a stiff froth. Freeze the green custard and when firm line a cylindrical mold with an inch layer of the cream. Mix the whipped cream with the drained raisins, one-half of a cupful of sifted powdered sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Turn this into the center of the mold, finish with a layer of cream, cover and bind the edges of the mold with a two inch strip of thin muslin dipped in melted lard. Bury in ice and salt for from three to four hours, according to the diameter of the mold.

Claret Sauce. Stir together over the fire one cupful of sugar and one cupful of hot water. When the sugar is dissolved boil without stirring for ten minutes then set aside until cold. Add four tablespoonfuls of good claret and stand in a pan of pounded ice. Pour a little over each service of the sliced cream.

NEWTON WRIGHT IS CHARGED WITH HORSE STEALING

Newton Wright was arrested Saturday morning by Deputy Sheriff Rinehart at the Pennsylvania station on a charge of horse stealing, preferred by Ray Ashcraft of Prazesburg.

According to a statement made by the local police, Wright is wanted on a more serious charge at Coshocton, the alleged offense having been committed six or seven years ago.

The trouble in which Wright finds himself is unusual. The police department was informed that Wright disappeared six or seven years ago from Coshocton after learning that he was wanted by the authorities.

Thursday of this week, he appeared at the Ashcraft home and asked to borrow a horse, saying that he wanted to ride to the home of his brother, Mr. Ashcraft's mother was at home alone at the time and told the man that she couldn't let him have the animal.

Wright is said to have gone to the barn, secured a halter and then to the field where he nicked out a horse to his liking and drove away with him. Another neighbor's home he asked to borrow a saddle but was refused.

Late in the day, Mr. Ashcraft returned and learned what had taken place and he immediately sought the aid of the police. Friday Clinton Ashcraft and "Toll" Anderson, a neighbor, came to Newark to assist the local police in locating the man.

An all day's hunt failed to discover the man but Saturday morning he was found at the Pennsylvania railroad station waiting for a train. The police headquarters was notified but before an officer could arrive, the sheriff's office sent Deputy Rinehart to the station where the man was placed under arrest.

The horse has not been located and the sheriff's office is now endeavoring to learn what Wright has done with the animal.

ARE OBTAINING SIGNATURES FOR OPTION ELECTION

Upper Sandusky, O., Oct. 7.—The Business Men's Protective club of Wyandot county this morning started obtaining signatures asking for an election under the Ross Local Option law. It will be necessary to obtain 1,805 signatures, and it is thought that many more than that number will be secured before evening as petitions are being circulated in every voting precinct in the county. Wyandot county voted "dry" three years ago Friday by 52 majority and it is predicted that at the election this fall the county will go wet by a large majority as the option law here has proven a failure. Merchants are dissatisfied, claiming that a large part of their former country trade now deals at Bucyrus and Tiffin, not towns. They claim that this also holds true with the "wets" of this city who do most of their shopping in foreign territory.

PASTORS SIGNED THE LOCAL OPTION PETITION

Ironton, Oct. 7.—Judge Corn has set Oct. 26 for the holding of the wet and dry election in Lawrence County. Over 5000 voters, or more than 85 per cent of the vote cast at the last general election, signed a wet petition for the election. Among the petitioners are pastors of two of Ironton's churches.

FAIR CALLED OFF ON ACCOUNT OF BAD WEATHER

One of the largest crowds in years attended the Licking county fair Friday. It is estimated that at least 18,000 people were on the grounds. The day was ideal and the thousands who took advantage of the weather certainly enjoyed their holiday.

Three races were finished and the fourth on the program, a 2:27 trot was postponed on account of darkness after Jessie Jay had won two heats.

Saturday morning the officials decided to call off the fair, made necessary by the heavy rains of the night before the grounds being flooded and the track in no shape for racing.

The fair this year was a pronounced success, both in point of attendance and in the many exhibits displayed. The officials deserve commendation for their executive ability in making the big exhibition of 1911 one of the best ever.

SHORT SPORT

The Giants and Athletics have the winning habit; they never know when they've got enough. Gee but wouldn't you like to back 'em in a crap game. In the first game with the Giants' "Toots" Schultz, former University of Pennsylvania captain, yielded only one scratch hit for six innings—then went to pieces. He promises well for next year. With three men on bases in the seventh and the Yankees away out in front Eddie Collins laced out a triple that won the game for the Athletics.

There's hoping Cullison will repeat against MacGraw's choreboys, Coumbis on whom Mack must depend much to lick the Yankees. Was driven from the box by the Yankees. He must be saving that pitching whip. This recruit Donnelly that Fred Tenney has picked up is putting 'em across like a real pitcher. Kindly turn your lamps in his direction next year.

Even when pitted against the great Walter Johnson, "Buck" O'Brien, the Rex Sox recruits had the goods on him, holding the Senators to six hits and winning his game 3 to 1.

TRUSTEES OF Y. M. C. A. PLAN WINTER WORK

The Board of Trustees of the Y. M. C. A. met and go over the work of September, and make plans for the fall and winter work.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the Y. M. C. A. was held on Thursday evening with ten members present. Reports were read by chairman of the educational, membership, building and furnishings committees. The physical director and general secretary's reports were also read and approved by the board. The general secretary's report showed that the employed force had held the expenses for the month well under the amount authorized by the board.

Prof. W. E. Painter, chairman of the educational committee, reported that plans had been made for two classes, one in mechanical drawing and the other in general study for employed boys and that Mr. J. N. Pugh of the committee had agreed to supply a fund for the employed boys' class in order that the charge for tuition could be kept very low. This class will begin October 16, tuition $2 per term. The mechanical drawing class promises to be a very large one and begins October 10; tuition $6 for 40 lessons.

Chairman C. C. Metz reports that good progress had been made on the new dormitories and that eight men had already made application for permanent quarters in the rooms. Dr. C. L. Wyeth, chairman on the furnishing committee, reported that the committee on furnishings were planning to secure as many articles as possible from local firms.

Harry Scott, chairman of the special membership committee, reported at length with recommendations regarding rates and means to increase the membership. It was recommended that the rate for employed boys be made $1.00, $3.00, $4.00 respectively for social, swimming and gymnasium privileges. For $1 any working boy may have the social privileges consisting of reading room, lobby and games. This brings this privilege within the reach of practically every boy in the city. It was also recommended that a "Boosters" committee be selected to give special attention to increasing the membership.

The physical director's report showed that the gymnasium classes had been well attended for the past week. Many plans for the fall and winter work were discussed.

Other articles in this number are: "The Musical Laughter of Italy," by Charles Johnston; "A Hero of the Confederacy," by Lafayette McLaws; "England's Peril—Starvation," by Sydney Brooks; "The War Spirit in Germany," by Edward T. Heyn. This number contains an article upon the Italian invasion of Tripoli, with drawings, humorous contributions, and the usual editorial and financial features.

Is the World Growing Better?
Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters she now advises other sufferers everywhere to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They will help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see 50c at F. D. Hall's.

LAWS GOVERNING TAXATION OF MONEY AND SECURITIES

Believing many people are not clear in their own minds as to what kinds of intangible property are taxable under the laws of Ohio, we take this means of calling the attention of owners of this kind of property to this subject.
Money in the hands of banks, or trust companies, whether a savings account, a checking account or in the form of a certificate of deposit, is taxable, the amount to be listed being the amount the owner or holder had on April 9th, 1911.

Money in a building association, whether in the form of a certificate of deposit, a savings account or otherwise, is taxable.

The Board of Review is now and will be for several days giving the listing of the above kind of property its special attention, to the end that no kind of property taxable under our laws shall escape its fair share of the burdens of taxation.
We wish to give all holders of this kind of property a fair opportunity to list it without penalties. Owners of this kind of property may see us at our office, southwest corner of Court House basement, where this kind of property may be listed for taxation and returns of personal property generally corrected.

SUFFERED AGONY WITH ITCHING

And Burning. Sores Like Boils All Over Body. Parts of Flesh Raw. Could Scarcely Bear Clothes On. Nearly Worn Out When He Tried Cuticura Remedies and Was Cured.

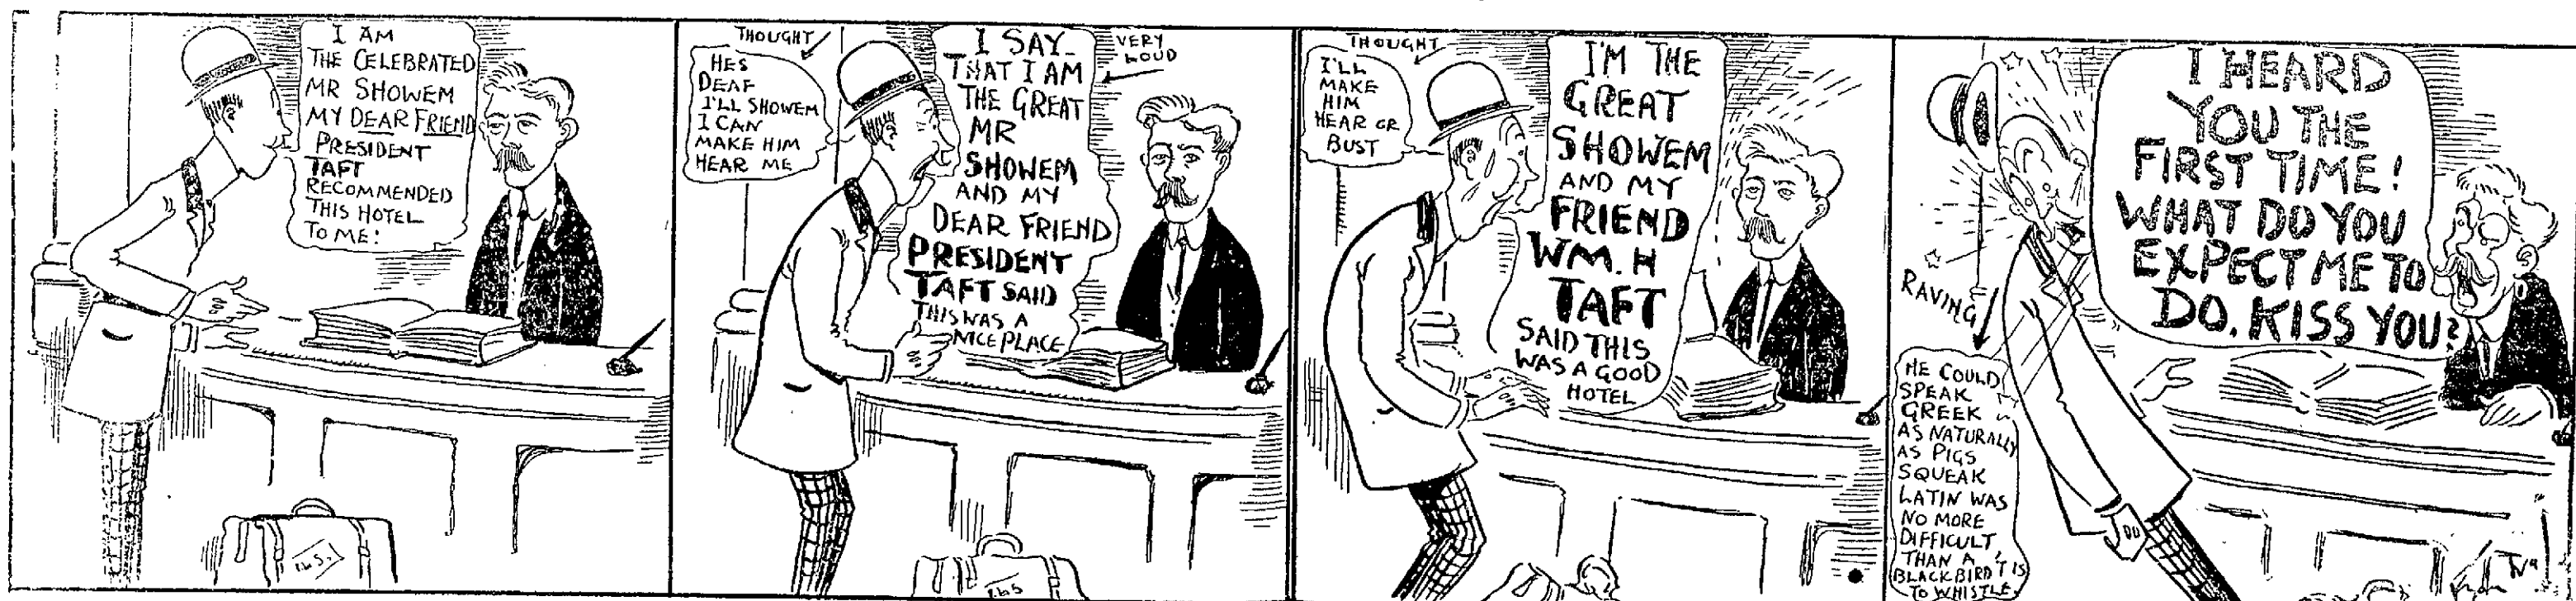

"About four years ago I broke out with sores on my arms like boils. After two months they were all over my body, some coming, and some going away. In about six months the boils quit, but my arms, neck and body broke out with an itching, burning rash. It would burn and itch, and come out in pimples like grains of wheat. I was in a terrible condition; I could not sleep or rest. Parts of my flesh were raw, and I could scarcely bear my clothes on. I could not lie in bed in any position and rest. In about a year the sores extended down to my feet. Then I suffered agony with the burning, itching sores. I could hardly walk and for a long time I could not put on socks."

"All this time I was trying everything I could hear of, and had the skill of three doctors. They said it was eczema. I got no benefit from all this. I was nearly worn out, and had given up of a despair of ever being cured when I was advised by a friend to try Cuticura Remedies. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and used exactly as directed. I used the Cuticura Remedies constantly for four months, and nothing else, and was perfectly cured. It is now a year, and I have not had the least relapse. I am ready to praise the Cuticura Remedies at any time." (Signed) E. L. Cate, Exile, Ky., Nov. 10, 1910.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 21A, Boston, for free sample of each with 32-p. book on the skin.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

When Daddy Played
Halloween Ghost
For a Thief

The Thief Dashed Out of the Barn

"HALLOWEEN fun is all very well," said daddy, "but there is such a thing as having too much of it. When I was a boy we were not allowed to play tricks on our neighbors, but I'm afraid we sometimes were naughtier than we ought to have been."

"One Halloween I shall never forget. We boys rigged up a ghost to scare any one who happened to be coming along our road. For awhile we raced up and down the paths. Then one boy said: 'Suppose we go over to Uncle Abe's, and if there is any one outside we can have some fun. They will be sure to ask us in afterward and give us a fine treat.'"

"We, of course, sneaked up to Uncle Abe's fence very quietly."

"I think I see a light out there in the barn," whispered one of the boys.

"Uncle Abe is looking after the horses, I guess," some one answered.

"Uncle Abe was noted for his love of horses. His Bessy and Bonnahel were said to be two of the finest horses in the state and had taken prize after prize at county fairs."

"There, he's put the light out now. Sneak in," called one of my companions. I played ghost.

"The barn door was ajar, and I sneaked in very quietly, having gum boots on my feet. I could see some one standing over by the window near one of the horse's stalls. The man turned his head. 'W-r-r-r!' I groaned."

"Such a yell as the fellow gave. The boys peeping at the door hadn't time to get out of the way as he dashed out. Then we heard footsteps running as if from the house to the gate. The house door was flung open and 'Uncle Abe stood in the door calling, 'Who's there?' When he saw men running he hurried out to the barn."

"For the land's sake!" he cried when he spied us. Then he caught up a lantern and struck a match. "There's something queer about those men, boys. What were they doing in my barn at this hour?"

"Into the barn we all stalked and there were Bessy and Bonnahel saddled and bridled. Bags had been tied on their feet so they would step softly. We had come just in time to keep those men from stealing Uncle Abe's horses, and he turned to us and said:

"Boys, I never thought I should be so pleased to see a ghost!"

"Well, he called out the neighbors to hunt them, but the thieves had gone for good. He and Aunt Mary made a big fuss over us, and Uncle Abe took us home to make it all right with the folks. I guess, after all, we were a little scared to go alone."

"But I've always been careful about Halloween surprises since then."

HOW TO WIN.

Life brings to each his task, and whatever art you select—algebra, painting, architecture, poems, commerce, politics—all are attainable, even to the marvellous triumphs, on the same terms of selecting that for which you are apt. Begin at the beginning, proceed in order step by step. 'Tis as easy to twist iron anchors and braid canons as to braid straw, to boil granite as to boil water, if you take all the steps in order. Wherever there is failure there is some giddiness, some superstition about luck, some step omitted which nature never pardons.—Emerson.

Oct. 7.

Colonel R. C. Buchanan of the Union army had invented a peculiar portable boat used on several expeditions in Oregon. It was of light framework of thin and narrow boards in lengths suitable for packing and connected by hinges, the various sections folding into so small a compass that it was conveniently carried on the back of mules.

The sporting world was enthusiastic over the feats of two long distance runners. Levett, champion of England, ran seven miles in 37 minutes 27 seconds, and Deerfoot, a Seneca Indian, covered twelve miles in 65 minutes 5 seconds.

HAD ECZEMA TWENTY YEARS

And Was Cured Completely in Two Weeks Time by the Use of Goodhair Soap.

"Gentlemen: I have been sick. I may say, for the last 20 years; went to Hot Springs, St. Paul, Minn., and Indiana, and was benefited while there but when I came home it was the same old story. My God, I would lie awake at night and scratch until I was weak and exhausted. Then I might sleep but when I awoke I would find the cause of more torture when I would wake up. My itching seems to be the worst on my head, face, arms and legs. Sometimes the burning sensations are enough to drive me crazy. There are no sores of any kind on me, only a dry scaly skin, or it is raw and very tender. I have spent a fortune in medicine, have taken a course of remedies by the dozen, would use a box of ointment in two days. I could not say how many bottles of medicine, but I must say I HAVE DERIVED MORE BENEFIT FROM GOODHAIR SOAP THAN ANY OTHER I HAVE TAKEN IN SUCH SHORT TIME. I CAN GO TO BED NOW, AND STAY UNTIL I AM READY TO GET UP IN THE MORNING—SOME-THING I HAVE NOT DONE IN TEN OR FIFTEEN YEARS.

I have told three friends of mine who are so troubled, but they said they could not get that soap here. The drug clerk said he had not heard of it before.

I shall never forget the kindness of Dr. Hughes of Garrett, Ind. He has done everything in his power for me. Everything he has heard of he has told me to do, and now through his kindness, AND YOUR WONDERFUL SOAP, I hope to spend a few happy and peaceful days or months on this earth. Hoping you will send me a box of Goodhair Soap at your convenience. I remain, with many thanks for your trouble."

BILL

By J. H. LARMORE

He was of uncertain pedigree and parentage, but of certain worth, which was equal to zero minus naught. Yellow of color and large of size, he was good natured, lazy and cowardly by nature. Everybody in Watsonville knew and loved Bill, but if Bill ever had a usefulness nobody ever knew it.

Bill was born on the farm of Frank Barker, west of town, and when a very small pup he was taken from the tender care of his mother and the pleasant companionship of his brothers and sisters and brought to town by Jacob Miller, who thought Bill might grow up and develop into a good hunter. Miller arranged a good warm place for Bill in one of the stalls of the livery stable, of which Miller was the proprietor, and young Merton Miller fed the dog on a bottle. Bill grew all right, but he did not develop into a fine hunter. Trouble was that he took life too easy to develop into anything but a town dog.

As aforementioned, Bill was good natured and friendly, that is, if it did not take too much effort. If one spoke kindly to him (and who did not?) Bill wagged about two inches of his tail very feebly, but did not take any extra exertions to do it. He would let a child pull his ears or his tail, or a man tease him without showing any resentment. It is to be doubted whether or not he was usually fast asleep.

The street in front of the livery stable was a fine place to sleep any time in a summer day. In the forenoon the bid doors of the stable and the blacksmith shop nearly cast sufficient shadow. In the afternoon the trees and the Monitor printing office across the street furnished more shade. Bill could go to sleep early in the morning, slumber unmolested except by flies, until noon, stretch himself leisurely at noon and get his dinner, then go back and lie down in almost identical the same spot and sleep till evening.

Early in Bill's urban existence, when he had passed from the milk stage of life to the carnivorous, his master took him to the butcher shop and, making him stand outside, bought a piece of meat which he carried out and gave to Bill for his dinner. He then gave the butcher a sum of money with which to provide Bill's daily rations for the next month. Very carefully it was explained to Bill that each day he was to visit the butcher and stand outside until his piece of meat was brought to him, and he seemed to understand, for as long as he lived he would go each day to the shop and stand outside until his meat was brought. He was never known to go inside and never stole a piece of meat. Bill was honest, if useless, and the only misdemeanor ever laid at his door was the theft of a loaf of bread from a baker's wagon. Those who saw the theft declared that Bill stole the loaf simply as a trick and not from dishonest motives. The baker was delivering bread to a house at the time and nobody ever told him who stole the loaf.

If Bill could be enticed up town by some boy or man he would follow along faithfully until he came to some nice place to lie down in, and then would go no farther. One of his favorite places of sleeping was in State Street, just outside the rails of the interurban trolley line. Sometimes, if he was not too particular, he would lie inside the rails. The motorman might kick his gong and blow the air whistle all he pleased, and Bill would sleep on, or pretend to, at least. Finally the motorman would get off his car and lift Bill out of harm's way. Bill immediately would curl down wherever the motorman put him and go to sleep again.

One day a strange crew brought the car down town. The car was 20 minutes late and the motorman was changing his gong vigorously as he went through town to keep the track clear and thus make up time. Bill was lying asleep in the street, with two inches of his tail projecting over the outside rail. The motorman saw him but he didn't know Bill from any other dog, so he kept on coming and ringing the gong. Bill slept on. The front wheel of the car cut off the two inches of Bill's caudal appendage that hung over the interurban's right-of-way and the car went on. Bill slowly opened his eyes, stretched himself, got up as though he were working for $1 a day, turned around, sniffed at the piece of amputated tail unconcernedly, then lay down to sleep again.

Bill, because of his size, could make the little feists keep away from him, but he was diplomatic enough not to engage in any affairs of honor with the canines of growth approximating or exceeding his own. He managed somehow to keep out of their reach and whenever there was a general dog assembly or lodge meeting at night, Bill was conspicuous by his absence. If a little dog annoyed him, however, Bill might scrap, especially if the little fellow went to too great length. Otherwise, Bill might look indolently on the little dog's offenses and close his eyes again in peaceful slumber.

One day Bill was going down the street he spied a little cur. Perhaps the pup had done something on the previous day to arouse Bill's resentment for Bill suddenly became ashamed of his lack of prowess. At any rate, Bill resolved himself into a flying wedge and made for the feist. There were two shrieks, the pup flying for cover and k-y-ing and Bill flying after the pup. In his dash after the little fellow Bill had to pass an alley opening. Now Bill was observing enough, even if lazy, and he couldn't pass that alley without glancing hurriedly into it to see if any possible danger threatened him from therein.

It was well that he took that glance, for he saw, out of the corner of his eye a dog, about two sizes larger than himself, and of fierce aspect, coming toward him. Bill didn't wait to determine whether or not the big fellow had amicable or hostile intent. Instead, he wheeled about quicker than you could say Jack Robinson and darted across to the livery stable, where he knew there was a haven. That move was about the quickest Bill ever made in all his life. It saved the pup from a licking, and Bill from another one.

Bill was a four flusher. One day a country dog came along, trotting under his master's wagon, and looking neither to the right nor to the left, but attending to his own business as country dogs usually do. Bill was lying apparently asleep in front of the livery stable when the wagon passed. If he knew there was a dog under the wagon, or indeed, if he even knew there was a wagon he gave no sign. He slept on until the wagon got perhaps 200 feet farther down the street then he suddenly sprang up, started swiftly, but noiselessly after that country dog, and before the rube canine knew what was happening, Bill had chewed up his right ear. The country dog gave a yelp and ran down the road as though he was pursued by a pack of bloodthirsty bulldogs. Bill emitted one loud, triumphant bark, then ducked for home. He ran all the way back for fear the country dog might have reconsidered the motion, and concluded to avenge the insult.

One day Bill got his. On Sundays when his master was accustomed to sit in the front yard at his home and smoke his cigar, Bill would leave his resting place in front of the livery stable and sleep near his master's chair on the lawn. There was a board fence in front of the yard, which was too high for Bill to scale, and the gate usually was closed. But down in one corner of the yard was a hole in the fence, through which Bill had means of ingress and egress at will. It was a habit with Bill, especially if he had had a good rest all forenoon, to watch for other dogs that chanced to pass that way, and if they were not members of his set, to dodge through the hole and after them. He always figured just how far it was safe for him to go and he took care never to let the other dog get between him and the fence. Furthermore he was careful not to run out unless the passing dog was smaller than himself. As the other dog was frightened, Bill would chase him for about half a block and then return and crawl through the fence. If, however, the other dog showed fight Bill got under the fence sooner.

Bill's master got tired of this four-flushing and laid a trap for Bill. One Sunday afternoon Bill spied a little dog coming down the street. He waited until the little fellow got a few feet beyond the hole in the fence then shot out after him. It was Bill's idea to scare about a year's growth out of that dog. But to Bill's intense and somewhat painful surprise, the other dog didn't scare. Instead, he showed fight and promptly wheeled on his antagonist. Bill let out a wail and started, tail between his legs, for the hole in the fence. There was surprise No. 2. There wasn't any hole. For Bill's master had nailed it up after Bill got into the street. Well, Bill on that particular Sunday afternoon, swore off from running out into the street to scare strange dogs. When his master took off the board and let the hole remain as before

Bill let on he didn't even know there was a hole there.

Bill's laziness finally resulted in his untimely death. One day he lay down to sweet dreams and because of the sun's fierce rays, made his bed a couple of feet farther out in the street than was his wont. A traction engine, with a thrasher and water wagon attached came up the street. The engine was having plenty to do handling his engine and trying to keep it from scaring horses, and he could not have been expected to pay any attention to dogs lying in the street.

Now Bill heard that engine as plainly as he ever heard a call to something to eat, but he had been so used to having street cars and buggies get out of his way that he supposed this contraption would do the same thing, but it didn't. Nobody happened to be near enough to warn Bill or to grab him by the tail and pull him out of harm's way. The engine came on. Finally the engineer spied Bill and tooted his whistle for him to get out of the way, but Bill didn't move. Too late the engineer tried to turn the big wheel so it wouldn't hit the dog. What was left of Bill was gathered up, wrapped in a nice new piece of calico and laid in a pine box. Burial was made in a pasture field at the edge of town and a headboard was put up, so that all who ran might read the inscription which Elias Coney, the painter scrawled on it. This was the inscription:

POOR BILL has gone and we mourn our loss—
We have laid him away with a tear
His death was caused by an iron boss
Cursed laziness brought him here.

AVOID DECEPTION

Use Newbro's Herpicide Instead.
Wearing artificial hair is a harmless deceit of which many ladies are guilty. These women are still objects for sympathy rather than criticism.

Early neglect in the care of the scalp has caused the loss of so much hair that their personal appearance is sadly marred. To correct this defect they resort to artificial hair.

Most ladies would resent any imputation of personal carelessness and neglect. And yet very many women permit their natural hair to become so dull, brittle and lusterless that it looks no better than the artificial.

All this is as unfortunate as it is unnecessary. Hair that is unsightly or thin may usually be attributed to the malevolent activity of the dandruff germ. This vicious germ burrows down into the hair follicle, shortly destroying its life. The hair becomes dead, loose and finally drops out.

There is a remedy sold by all druggists, the intelligent use of which will kill the dandruff germ. It also cleanses the scalp of all accumulations and makes the hair shine with the luster of life and beauty.

That remedy is Newbro's Herpicide, the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer. This preparation in one dollar size bottles is sold and guaranteed everywhere.

Applications may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., will send a nice sample and booklet to any address upon receipt of 10c in postage or silver.

The Coup de Monserrat.

The history of the sword stroke the Parisian fencers call the "coup de Monserrat" is romantic. The hero of the story was a young Parisian musician engaged to be married to a young lady of Bordeaux. Quarreling with a cousin of his fiancée, he got his ears boxed at the Bordeaux club. Ignorant of fencing, he dared not resent the insult and renounced his engagement. But he also took fencing lessons from one Monserrat, a maître d'armes of Toulouse. Monserrat taught him one trick only, and he practiced it for a year. At the end of that time he returned to the Bordeaux club, slapped his man's face and, being called out, instantly ran his opponent through the body with his cunning lunge.

Grease Versus Gravity.

A professor in Yale university delights in telling of his experience with an inventor of the unlettered genius type who came to the professor with a model of a perpetual motion machine.

"It'm looks plausible," observed the professor, "but it won't work. What are you going to do about gravity?"

"Gravity!" said the visitor scornfully. "T'ell wit' gravity; we'll use plenty of grease."—Cosmopolitan.

Silent Barbers.

Barbers in the early days of the Christian era were not permitted to talk while shaving a patron. Indeed, silence was so much appreciated by persons while under the barber's hands that mutes were preferred for this service.

It's Equal Doesn't Exist.

No one has ever made a salve, ointment or balm to compare with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the one perfect healer of cuts, corns, burns, bruises, sores, scalds, boils, ulcers, eczema, salt rheum. Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

GRANVILLE NOTED FOR REUNIONS

Old Time Residents Return from All
Over the Country to Greet Friends—Home from Florida.

Granville, Oct. 7.—During the past month or two numerous family reunions have been held in Granville. The members of the different families coming here from all over the United States. Here it was that many of them spent their early lives, and the old place still holds out many attractions for them. There is something about Granville that has a peculiarly fascinating lure. Granville is a typical New England village of the west, a place of broad, shady streets, lined with pleasant homes, a place of culture and refinement, where students come and go, where character is developed and destiny is shaped. One may trace the boundaries of the original "green," now bisected by streets and quartered by church homes, or turning aside a few rods from the center of life, may find himself in a quaint and quiet city of two thousand dead, one of the most interesting burying grounds in Ohio, whose curious epitaphs and lofty sentiment mark stones which bear the name of honored New England families, tell of life in famous New England colleges, or describe the achievements of those who followed the flag of the Revolution, the war of 1812, and other wars of the republic. New England is stamped all over the old burying ground, and when the visitor goes back to the main streets, sees the many well equipped college buildings or unusual excellence, the church buildings of unusual excellence, each with its fine pipe organ, the commodious public school, learns that the village owns the electric light plant and a splendid system of water works, and gains some knowledge of the high character of the population and the tone of the community for morality and education and culture, he is unimpressed with the fact that this is an exceptional locality.

The cool winds have come down on us, knocking the leaves off the trees and starting the birds in the sitting room grate. The overcoat has been unrolled and is being worn, and the madaam has been straightening up and brushing out her winter wraps. A man spoke to us about sausage for breakfast, and now we know the summer has gone, and Jack Frost is overdue. October is the month that sweeps over the lungs and brushes the cobwebs out of the brain and makes a fellow feel life is worth the living.

Mr. and Mrs. George Coffman of Montpelier, O. recently enjoyed a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Flory at their home on Centerville. Mr. Coffman is a brother of Mrs. Flory.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hillier of Pleasantville, O. who have been visiting relatives and friends in Granville and vicinity during the past two weeks, have gone to Columbus where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Samuel Freeman a few days before returning home.

Burton Case, who has been in Tampa, Florida, for some time in business, has returned home. He was accompanied by Kay B. Tatum, a bright young man, who has entered Doane academy.

Miss Carrie Miller, a charming and accomplished young woman of Terre Haute, Ind., who has been visiting friends here for some days, has returned home.

The people of Granville have the reputation of being the most hospitable of any town in the state, and visitors note with a great degree of satisfaction the exceptional courtesy that is extended them by the clerks and business people with whom they come in contact. It has been said that Granville is exceptional in this respect. Courtesy, patience and a willingness to please characterize the business houses of Granville.

The public schools closed Friday in order to give the pupils an opportunity of attending the Licking County Fair.

The members of the Granville band have been industriously practicing for some time, getting ready for their trip with St. Luke's Commandery, No. 34, Knights Templar, to Dayton on Wednesday, October 11, to attend the state convocation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence of Morrow county, who have been visiting here during the past few days, returned home Friday.

Dr. Fred Larimore, who recently sold his practice in Port Washington, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. John Larimore, at her home on East College street. The doctor will shortly leave for New York where he will take a post-graduate course for the treatment of the eye, ear and throat. He has not decided where he will locate after he finishes his studies.

The Sheperdson faculty and students arrived Friday evening most delightfully the members of the Denison faculty and all Denison students in Stone Hall.

INJUNCTION CASE AGAINST OFFICIALS AMICABLY ADJUSTED

Columbus Natural Gas Co. and Licking County Commissioners Reach An Understanding and Work on Road Improvements Will Now Proceed Without Further Delay.

The injunction suit brought by the Columbus Natural Gas Co. vs. County Commissioners of Licking county, was amicably adjusted on Saturday morning in Common Pleas court. The case was assigned for hearing Friday on a motion to dissolve the temporary order of injunction which was issued upon the filing of the petition by plaintiff, and giving bond. The contesting parties imparied all day Friday in an effort to adjust the matter and were unsuccessful, but on Saturday morning, after the statement of the case had been made to the court by both parties, by their attorneys, and after the witnesses for the defendant had been sworn by the clerk, the court suggested that the parties might still be able to adjust the case amicably if they imparied further. The plaintiff and defendants then settled the suit.

The plaintiff sought to enjoin the County Commissioners from removing the pipe line of the plaintiff in the Granville and Columbus road, which road is being improved, the company offering to remove its pipes so that the same would be outside the macadamized portion of the road, and the Commissioners insisted that it be removed to the side of the road along the fence.

A. A. Stasel and B. G. Smythe were the attorneys for Phil B. Smythe, representing the county, and Judge John M. Swartz, while James R. Fitzgibbon and C. W. Montgomery represented the gas company.

The case was stated by Mr. Montgomery for the gas company and by Judge Swartz for the County Commissioners.

After a short conference between the attorneys for the gas company and the county attorney, Attorney A. A. Stasel announced to the court that they had reached a proposition of agreement. By the terms of the agreement the gas company agrees to lay the gas mains from the county line east four and a half miles, at least three feet from the macadamized face of the roadway and not over two feet deep. East of that they are to lay it where the County Commissioners and Engineer say, and they will go clear of the 24-foot road bed right of way. The gas company is to give a bond of $10,000, approved by the County Commissioners, with sufficient sureties that they will do no damage to the road bed at the time of replacing the mains, or at any time they have to dig down to the main part and repair it.

Quite a number of witnesses were in attendance upon the court.

HOW SOCIETY WOMAN WARDS OFF WRINKLES

"Wrinkles are not strangers to me, but when I acquire such disfigurements I know how to lose them in a hurry." A well-known society matron confided this to me. I had wondered how she, with her strenuous social duties and late hours, could so completely ward off the usual marks of care and dissipation.

"I don't wear wrinkles in public, nor those horrid rings beneath the eyes," she continued, "since I've learned what plain ordinary saxolite will do. When any of those hateful marks appear, I send to the drug-store for an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint of witch hazel. I mix the two, bathe my face in the solution and—that's the whole secret. I've never tried anything that works so miraculously. My chin is in clined to double; this trouble, too, I keep in check in the same way."—Emily Dean in Town Talk.

FRATERNAL ORDERS

ODD FELLOWS.

Olive Branch Lodge of Odd Fellows, No. 34, met in regular session Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, with a good attendance of the members, and important business was transacted. The weather is getting cooler and the attendance is growing. At the meeting of the lodge on Tuesday evening, October 10, there will be work in the initiatory degree.

Brothers, don't forget the meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, October 17, when the Grand Master and the Grand Secretary will be present. Every Odd Fellow in the city is urged to attend this meeting. The Grand Master has promised a good lecture on Odd Fellowship. Don't forget the date, Tuesday, October 17, afternoon and evening in Odd Fellows' Hall.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Well, well, well. You missed it by not coming out to the last meeting of Roland Lodge, Knights of Pythias. A good time would be putting it mild. The page rank was conferred on one candidate and one application for membership was referred to the committee. All the sick brothers were reported as doing nicely. After the routine business of the meeting had been finished a number of the brothers made interesting remarks which were attentively listened to.

Among the visitors present were Bros. J. W. Little, of Fallsburg, and C. R. Knuck, of Echo Lodge, of Dayton, Ohio.

One of the features of the meeting and one that was greatly enjoyed, was the excellent oyster supper that was served, after which the bowl of old "A" was passed and all enjoyed a good smoke, while cards featured the remainder of the evening's entertainment. It is urged that as many of the brothers as can possibly do so attend the meeting on next Tuesday evening.

MODERN WOODMEN.

One of the best meetings that have been held for a long time was held by Cedar Camp Monday night, it being the opening meeting of the fall and winter work. Two applications for beneficial membership and one application for membership on transfer card was received and elected to membership. The Escort found in Harry Houtt, B. C. Moore, Dennis Orr, W. E. Swartz, C. L. Westhoven, H. W. Welch, L. L. Shannon, K. E. Hopkinson, J. A. Nolen and W. F. Place, who were admitted and adopted.

The ceremony of adoption was put in a very creditable manner by the officers and team. Several very interesting talks were made by District Deputy Beck, A. S. Mitchell, N. C. Sherburne and others. After the work and social session was over all retired to the banquet room where the entertainment committee had prepared ice cream, cake and peaches.

Word has been received that an invitation has been extended to the officers and team to confer the work upon a class of candidates in the near future and the officers and team are going to work hard to get themselves in shape to do Cedar Camp credit.

Remember the turkey supper at the close of this year's business.

Since our last meeting another neighbor, Charles M. Retherford has gone to the Great Beyond, having died at the Sanatorium from an operation for appendicitis. He carried a benefit certificate for $1000. He was buried at the Wilson cemetery, October 5.

RED MEN.
Minnewa Tribe met in regular council Friday night with all chiefs on their stumps. The Relief chiefs reported all the sick brothers getting along in nice shape.

The first warrior in scouting the forest found six palefaces for the Adoption degree which was conferred upon them.

Two new applications were received and referred to committees. It is the desire of the officers of Minnewa Tribe to reach the 300 mark by January 1, 1912, and a campaign committee was appointed and for each two palefaces captured the brother securing same will receive an official Red Man button, for five pale faces the brother receives a solid gold Official button, for eight pale faces a solid gold official Red Man's watch fob.

The tribe meets every Friday night and during the fall and winter months there ought to be work every meeting night.

Grand Sachem Max Levy is urging each tribe in the state to take the trail after the pale faces as he wants to exceed the ten thousand mark in Ohio by January. He has issued a speaking leaf, that all tribes who make a gain in membership of 25 between July 1, and January 1 will receive a beautiful diploma of the Roll of Honor and it is the desire of the officers of Minnewa tribe to have one of these diplomas hanging in his council chamber. At the next meeting of the tribe, the warrior's degree will be conferred.

The tribe meets every Friday night and during the fall and winter months there ought to be work every meeting night.

HEAVY RAIN VISITS CITY FRIDAY NIGHT

Newark was visited Friday night by the second heavy rain storm in two weeks but unlike that of two weeks ago, little damage was reported. The public service department was busy this morning cleaning out sewer drops where much surface dirt was washed in but aside from this no damage is reported.

In the eastern part of the state it is said the storm was more severe and railroad, telegraph and telephone service suffered much damage.

The rain soaked the race track at the fair ground to such an extent that it was necessary to call off the races scheduled for Saturday afternoon.
